EXPLORING AT HOME BASE

According to the Bruce Highway, every human in Brisbane went away this weekend, except for us! This meant we were able to spend time hanging out at home base and exploring local parks with little to no crowds, which was awesome!

SANDSTONE POINT

We were so excited to try out our new grass sleds on the huge slopes at Sandstone Point! Last time we were here we found some cardboard that people were using to slide on which gave us the inspiration to return with our own! Afterwards we wandered in the shallow water and had a play on the fitness equipment.

PINE RIVERS PARK

We always love to hear local recommendations from the children and on Saturday we were led to Pine Rivers Park. RWL haven't visited this park in a while so it was an exciting new adventure to explore, from the pedal bike track, huge flying fox and coaster ride. We enjoyed a picnic lunch before checking out a new part of the park and then heading home to package up all our baked goodies to take home and share with our families for Easter.
